Introduction

The Princess Quest is a fun and colorful game board that was made to compliment any studies that you are currently engaged in.

You personalize the questions. I have included 2 sets of blank cards for you to write your own questions on.

You create the rules. You can simply roll the dice and follow the directions on the squares to get to the end of the game... or you can make the game more interesting by adding in your own little twists or special rules.

Be creative, have fun. I hope you enjoy!
