INTRODUCTION

Welcome to Brick Building Activities!

Brick Building Activities is a collection of cards that you can use to incorporate building bricks into your homeschool. These activity cards were created to put in the workboxes we use for homeschooling. If you don't use workboxes then they could be used simply to give you creative ideas.

I really like the idea of my children using building bricks to be creative, but what I did not like was stepping on building bricks that had wandered all around the house. We now have twins that put everything in their mouths so keeping the building bricks contained and under control is even more important.

I hope you find some creative ideas here to help you use the building bricks effectively in your homeschool environment as well.

Contents: There are 40 different task cards and 8 blank cards for you to come up with your own ideas.
