Creative Date Idea Box

My name is Honey. I am married to Jonah. We have 5 active children. I am always looking for creative (and inexpensive) things that my husband and I can easily do on our date nights. "The Creative Date Idea Box" is full of ideas of things to do with your spouse.

The format is simple and easy to use. Feel free to use the cards in any way that works for you and your spouse. You can print out the activity cards on card stock and put them into a box. You can print out the cards on the back of pretty scrapbooking paper, fold them and put them in a large mason jar (or one of those lovely photo boxes).

When you are planning your date night, choose one or more cards to create a fun evening (or day) with your spouse. I hope you have lots of fun planning and creating date nights.

Blessings
