Introduction

My name is Honey and I am married to Jonah. We have 5 beautiful children. With five children there is a lot to do around our busy household. We home school and most of our meals are hot and made from scratch so there is always much kitchen work to do.

Here is the basic idea behind Mama's Checklists. They are a simple list for different time periods of the day. We have a really hard time with schedules that are time restricted so we have opted for time periods. I have included samples from our day and blank forms for you to create your own checklists.

There are many different ways you can use this system. You can print the forms out and fill them out for each day/week as you go. You could print the forms out and fill them out and laminate them. You can have the forms in a binder or hanging on the wall on a hook as a visual reminder. You can print the pages on colorful paper.

How ever you decide to use these forms is up to you. For those of you who have a difficult time finding a system that works for you, maybe this will be just the thing.

Please note: This would also work well with "Mama's Chore Box."

Blessings
Honey
